
The Fisherman - marquetry by Nikolay Serov - The Marquetarian

The Fisherman

marquetry (artistic wood mosaic)

Natural wood veneer

Dimensions: 1,100 x 870 mm / 43.3 x 34.25 inches.

The work consists of several parts singled out in the mind's eye:
the image of an old fisherman in a hat;
a fishing place with lots of items necessary for fishing;
and the image of another fisherman sitting behind a hill not far away.
When one looks at the figure of the neatly dressed fisherman in a bright neck-cloth and shiny boots, one can wonder slightly:
the author has depicted a quite wealthy elderly man enjoing his favourite hobby, not a peasant or a worker.
He is looking attentively at the surface of the morning lake on which his float is moving slowly.
The abundance of fishing gear, the accuracy of draughtmanship, the logic of distribution are astonishing:
the fisherman has placed everything so that, if necessary, he could take the required item swiftly by stretching his hand out.
On the background, another fisherman is scrupulously putting a worm on a hook, hoping to catch a big fish.
Slightly higher, on the hilltop, against a clear morning sky, young birches are basking in the rays of the rising sun.
The picture shows the harmony of man and nature and the aspiration towards quietly enjoying this harmony.
